

TWO BIG PERFORMANCES; GOTHAM STREAK ENDS

KIVIVUORI BLASTS SIX HITS; DAVIS BAGS FIVE HITS & FIVE RUNS; GOTHAM STREAK ENDS AT 17

BROOKLYN & NEWARK, N.J. (July 11, 1866) – The first day of Week Eleven of the N.B.B.O. season saw one batsman in each league put in a sterling performance.

First up was Empire Ilkka Kivivuori, who had six hits in his team's 20-13 victory at Bedford. The visitors came into the ninth behind 13-12, but an eight-run rally helped along by Kivivuori reaching base twice turned Empire into the runaway victors against the second-best team in Brooklyn.

The other big day came from American's superstar CF Willie Davis. In a 14-10 win at Newark, Davis had five hits, scored five times, and stole multiple bases to help his team increase its record to 29-22 and stay within a game of cross-town rivals Quaker State for second place in the Coastal Championship.

The base on balls that Kivivuori drew in the top of the ninth inning at Bedford meant he actually reached base seven times, one of only a handful of times that has ever happened in a nine-inning contest. The performance raised his average to .357 with three home runs and 45 R.B.I.

Davis, who looks like a lock to make yet another All-Star Game, raised his average to .348 with fifty R.B.I. and 27 stolen bases thanks to his five-hit & five-run outburst in Newark.

Elsewhere in base ball, the other notable event of the day was that Gotham's seventeen-game winning streak came to an end in the first of their five-game series at Metropolitan. The final score was 7-3, with Gotham never really able to make it a contest as the hosts were up 4-0 after the end of the fifth and 7-1 after the end of the seventh.

In spite of the loss, Gotham remains three games clear in the New York City Championship thanks to a 9-8 Union of Morrisania loss at lowly Mutual.
