

2ND ALL-STAR GAME GOES 12 INNINGS; N.E.L. WINS

MASCHERINO NAMED ALL-STAR GAME M.V.P. AFTER FOUR-HIT DAY

PHILADELPHIA (July 30, 1860) – The N.B.B.O. hosted its second All-Star Game on Monday afternoon. The stage was Glenwood Field, home of Philadelphia’s American Baseball Club. The roughly 12,500 who were in attendance got to see an exciting contest, one that needed three extra innings to complete.

The N.Y.L. jumped out to a big early lead thanks to half a dozen runs over their first three turns at bat, but the N.E.L. chipped away at the deficit until evening the score eighth. The score remained 6-6 until the bottom of the twelfth, when an unlikely single by Pioneer B.C. pitcher Oscar Hall brought in Anthony Mascherino for the N.E.L.’s game-winning run.

Most of the forty players nominated for the A.S.G. had a chance to play, and there was one standout performer: Green Mountain B.C. shortstop Anthony Mascherino, who was 4/5 with two runs including the game-winning score, two RBI, a walk, and a stolen base.
